Meguro Yakumo Nagaya Apartment – Tokyo

Creating partitioned spaces with panel curtains.

Starting Point

A three-storey open-plan terraced house was being built in a quiet residential area in Meguro. Roof and floor lights create a bright and airy atmosphere. To be able to aptly and variably partition the interior, the architects were on the lookout for a textile solution.

Solution

The SONOR and SALTO panel curtains achieved a lightweight and translucent partitioning of the rooms. They can be used flexibly in the home's open-plan design, reflecting a contemporary way of life.
