art'otel – London

Elegant curtains for comfort and privacy.

Starting Point

The art'otel London Battersea Power Station is the brand's first hotel in the UK. It offers numerous bars, restaurants, a gym and spa, an infinity pool and meeting rooms. The rooftop bar offers panoramic views of the Thames and the listed Battersea Power Station building.

Solution

The textile solution at the art'otel London combines functionality and design. Spanish artist and designer Jaime Hayon brings a playful atmosphere to the rooms with his colourful palette and unique art installations. Floor-to-ceiling windows allow plenty of daylight into the rooms, while curtains provide individualized light control: PHANTOM DARK offers effective blackout for restful sleep, while SINFONIA CS ensures privacy and simultaneously supports the elegant aesthetics.
