

Office

Netgo – Berlin

Textile solutions for a flexible and efficient working environment.

Starting Point

The reorganisation of the Netgo Office is intended to create a modern workplace that combines flexibility, collaboration and efficiency. The current structure makes it difficult to integrate departments and work together. There is a lack of suitable rooms for meetings, quiet working and informal gatherings.

Solution

Non-territorial workspaces enable flexible working between open communication, agile areas and quiet focus zones. A separate floor for meetings and events as well as a roof terrace with a view of the gasometer and the TV tower expand the utilisation options and strengthen the team spirit.

A rail system with SONOR curtains creates a pleasant working atmosphere and sets colourful accents at the same time.

The result is an inspiring and productive working environment that meets the requirements of the modern working world and increases employee satisfaction.

Object

Netgo, Berlin, Germany

Concept

raimund schucht szenografie, Berlin